New Year's Greetings

We want to thank our patrons for past favors, and especially for the patience and forbearance shown us during the greater part of the past year, while we were unable to give the service to which you were entitled.

Most of you who are in business have had a similar experience, and realize that the war has affected us all, more or less, with reference to the service that we give to the public.

In our case we had the additional disadvantage of bad weather, storms, and the confusion connected with the merger, all to contend with at the same time, but most of our troubles have been overcome, and we are confident that we will soon be "back to normal."

Most of us agree that the year 1920 will see a great change, either for better or worse, and we are optimistic enough to believe that before another Christmas comes around the "reconstruction days" will be practically over, and we will have adjusted ourselves to meet the new conditions, and that all lines of business will be running smoothly again.

We are going to "do our bit" to bring this to pass, by producing the very best telephone service that it is possible for us to produce with the means at our disposal.

We wish for all of you the best there is in the new year, and happiness with it.
